There was, of course, more or less dissatisfaction over the outcome of the affair on the part of the holders of the maturing short-term Erie notes who in the last few days had parted with these sequenties in the open market beligning that the course of the yesterday from bankruptcy preceedings. them, and preferring to realize what they could by sale in preference to an exchange for new secured notes under the plan of readjustment officially offered.

Future Still in Doubt.

There is still to be considered the weighty question of the Erie Raifroad Company's financial future. The maturing short-term notes will be paid in cash, and it is understood that the offer originals of the present crists to buy $5,000,000 additional notes still holds good. The suppositional notes s were seemingly inclined to consider that Wabash the Erie's position had been temporarily Wabash but not permanently or conclusively bet- Western Union .. tered by what had occurred, and though, therefore, prices of stocks held firmly, no enthusiasm wis displayed on the buying side. But as the day advanced this element began to figure in the situation that an illustration had been made of the determination of various larger financial interests to avert so far as they could the work of harmful market forces as these from time to time make their presence felt and the personal concerns that they had at stake upon the result of their en-

Planning a Bond Issue.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company, for instance, is about to negotiate a 000,000 bond issue and the Illinois Cer tral Railroad Company is soon to bring out about $30,000,000 of new bonds and stocks.

The strength of the United States Steel issues was less noteworthy than that in other quarters of the market, although a statement emanating from the chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation during the day was ordinarily spoken of as a bullish utterance, so far as the stocks of the corporations were concerned. Gary's statement was not so construed by those who read his words carefully, American Tobacco 4s. by those who read his words carefully. He declared that no reductions in the prevailing prices of steel were contempiated, but admitted that prices might be increased or decreased "if there was good reason," and that if such good reason could be given, the question would be considered on its merits. The statement appeared to be one in which much should be read between the lines.

New York, April 9.—Cotton opened steady at a decline of about 6 points and sold down from 8 to 11 points during the merning hour. Considerable pressure was put upon the market, which was strengthened by reports of good weather in the South and weakness at Liverpool and New Orleans, Much covering developed during the decline, but even with the fright of the bears, prices rallied only about 2 points, and from that time on the market was unsteady, with little doing.

"WHAT HAS HE DONE?"

If there is one person on earth whose record should be looked up before entering into business relations with him it is YOUR. BUILDER. Why! Stop and consider the immunerable possibilities for sharp practice, offered in a building job. In engaging a builder, never forget to put point blank Napoleon's famous question, "What has he done!" I welcome the question so far as it relates to.

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disturbed conditions of the money or stock markets. First deed of trust notes (first mortgages), well secured on reel estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt-edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Leans and Investments."
